ROOMS ♦ LINEAR THINKING

Eric Dyer designed this sleek, urban great room for a home in Boca Raton's Mizner Park. Linear patterns repeat on the walls, ceiling and furniture, drawing the eye around the space, which serves as a living and dining room. Minotti leather chairs complement the custom table by Dyer's own furniture line, Arthur Collection. Black vintage hickory wood flooring delineates the dining area, yet transitions smoothly to the Pietra Serena limestone in the living room. Sophisticated artwork and two suede x-base stools accent the custom concrete-finished walls, which offer hidden storage. The space is separated from the master suite by acid-etched starfire glass. The combination of elements provides a minimalist setting for maximum entertaining. Eric Dyer, design director Troy Dean Interiors, Hallandale Beach (954-458-6075, trenddesignbuild.com)
